

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An upper radiating layer is formed around a lower core layer without making contact with the lower core layer, and 5 each of first and second coils has a portion facing the lower core layer and a portion facing the upper radiating layer so that heat of the first and second coils is released to the upper radiating layer.